

1. Long Night

Mirie it is while sumer ilast
with fugheles song.
Oc nu necheth windes blast
and weder strong.
Ei, ei! What this night is long and ich with well michel wrong
soregh and murne and fast.

It is merry while summer lasts,
with the song of birds.
But now the wind's blast approaches,
and strong weather.
Ay, ay! How long this night is,
and I, most unjustly,
sorrow and mourn and fast.

2. Floating Stanzas (The True Lover's Farewell I)

O fare thee well my own true love,
O fare thee well a while.
I'm going away, but I'm coming back
If I go ten thousand mile.

Ten thousand mile, my own true love,
Ten thousand mile or more,
The sea may freeze, and earth will burn,
If I never more return.

3. Jack Hall

Oh my name it is Jack Hall, Jack Hall
Oh my name it is Jack Hall.
And I killed a man they said
And I smashed his bloody head
And I left him going dead
Damn your eyes!

And this shall be my knell, my knell
And this shall be my knell:
God damn you all to hell
And I hope you sizzle well
Damn your eyes!

4. Floating Stanzas (The True Lover's Farewell II)

Who will shoe your little feet,
Who will glove your little white hand
And who will kiss your red rosy cheeks
When I am in some foreign land?

Papa will shoe my little feet,
Mama will glove my little white hand,
Nobody will kiss my red rosy cheeks
When you are in some foreign land.

5. The Young Man Who Travelled Up and Down

When I was a little boy I travelled up and down
And I chanced to stop in a seaport town.
The drums they beat and the cannon did roar
And the people there told me the wars weren't o'er.

In come the soldier, so very neat and fine,
"Come landlady, draw me a pint of good wine,
And we'll charge it to the borrow along with the old score,
And I'll pay you for your liquors, when the wars are o'er."

In come the barber, a-wishing little harm
With a great long beard as long as your arm.
Saying, "If I don't get a kiss from the girl I adore,
I'll be hanged if I shave till the wars are o'er."

In come the blacksmith, greatest trade of all,
Sold his bed and blankets for some iron and coal.
Now he has to sleep upon the cold frozen floor,
He may lay there and freeze till the wars are o'er.

Along come the tailor, and loud did he say,
"The way I make my living is by four and six a day,
Mending up old clothes all ragged and torn,
And they never will get new ones till the wars are o'er."

Along come the teacher, with his cunning looks,
He said he made his living by the teaching of his books.
He has got a list of scholars and he can't get no more,
And he can't get the school till the wars are o'er."

In come the devil with a Yankee on his back,
He picked up the soldier to balance his pack.
The Yankee rode behind and the soldier rode before,
And away they went a-jogging till the wars are o'er.
